

GROVER CLEVELAND DAY IN NEW YORK

Many Services on Birth Anniversary, President Speaking at One.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Many Americans met in Carnegie Hall this afternoon to pay tribute to the late President Grover Cleveland, the occasion being the seventy-second anniversary of his birth.

President Taft delivered the principal address and was followed by Chief Justice Fuller of the United States Supreme Court. Former President Theodore Roosevelt sent a letter of regret that he was unable to participate and paid tribute to the high patriotic qualifications of the dead President.

Poem for Occasion.
In addition Richard Watson Gilder read an original poem composed for the occasion, while a trained chorus of 120 voices from the New York Liederkreis sang patriotic songs accompanied by Walter Damrosch's orchestra.

Seated on the platform were Senator Elihu Root, Gov. Charles E. Hughes, Judge George Gray, of Delaware, the Rev. Daniel J. Quinn, president of Fordham College; William B. Hornblower, Edward M. Shepard, Richard Olney, of Massachusetts; the Right Rev. Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts, and Granville L. Winthrop, of New York, Francis Lynde Stetson, who called the meeting to order, and Mayor McClellan, who presided.

Tonight, another meeting will be held at the City College, at which Governor Hughes will be the chief speaker, and Messrs. Hornblower, Root, Gray, Shepard, and Quinn will participate. Miss Lillian Blauvelt and the United Hebrew Singers will sing.

Permanent Memorial.
In calling this afternoon's meeting to order, Mr. Stetson declared that the permanent memorial committee appointed by Mayor McClellan at the day of Cleveland's death was rapidly completing its plans and that the memorial would be in perfect conformity with the character of the man honored.

Taft arrived just before the meeting began, accompanied by his brother and his assistant secretary. Elaborate precautions had been taken for his protection, the police having blocked off the approach to the stage entrance through which he had access to the building. He was escorted to the seat that had been reserved for him at the center of the stage. His entrance was cheered by the crowd and the orchestra played "America."

President Taft Goes.

President Taft left Washington for New York this morning at 8 o'clock, going over the Pennsylvania railroad in the private car Constitution.

As a result of the President's absence from the city, many Senators and Representatives who have formed the habit of calling at the White House daily, were at a loss as to what to do. However, they made up for it and put in their time calling on the members of the Cabinet.

Mr. Taft was accompanied to New York by Mrs. Taft, Miss Edith, the Assistant Secretary, two Secret Service men, and O. T. Boyd, of the Pennsylvania railroad. The party went to the Union Station in the White House automobile, arriving just two minutes and a half before the time for the train's departure.

While he is away from this city, the President will have a busy time. He will make an address this afternoon at the Grover Cleveland memorial services, at Carnegie Hall. He will spend the night at the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, in New York city, and tomorrow morning he will go to New Haven, Conn., to attend the annual meeting of the Yale corporation. Tomorrow night he will be the guest of honor at the Yale alumni dinner in New York, and will start on his return trip to Washington at midnight. He will reach Washington early Saturday morning.

Will Sign or Veto Bill.

NEW YORK, March 18.—President Taft will assume responsibility for the tariff bill when it is finally passed by Congress.

He made it plain on his arrival here today, when he stated that the bill, when it finally reaches him, will be either signed or vetoed, and that should its provisions not meet with his approval, he will not let it become a law, as President Cleveland did the Wilson bill, by statutory limitation.

"I have not had a chance to study the bill," said Mr. Taft. "But Mr. Payne consulted with me before he introduced it, and I have a general knowledge of its provisions. But I have decided that I will either sign or veto the bill when it reaches me."

Mr. Taft arrived here from Washington shortly after 1 o'clock, and proceeded at once to the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, where he had luncheon. Later he went to Carnegie Hall, where he will make the principal speech at the Cleveland memorial meeting. Judge Gray, of Delaware, made the trip from Wilmington, Del., with the President in his private car.
